LONDON, May 10.—(INS)—With Grand Admiral Doenitz slated to be shelved as government head of the defeated Reich at the earliest possible moment, remnants of the German submarine and surface fleet which Doenitz commanded began surrendering today to the Allies.

Discuss Items That May Benefit S. Langhorne

SOUTH LANGHORNE, May 10.—A number of items that will possibly redound to the benefit of this borough were discussed when the Associated Businessmen of South Langhorne met for their dinner session at Flannery's Restaurant last evening.

When president Charles O'Brien gave the floor to president of borough council, Joseph Keating, the latter told of the hopes of South Langhorne, Langhorne and Langhorne Manor boroughs for a sewer system. He mentioned that the local council has contacted concerns with a view to a survey for the same.

Discussion also took place on the proposal of the Presidents' Council of this area for possible establishment of recreation centers in the communities of this area.

Committee reports were heard, and the one regarding establishment of door-to-door delivery of mail listened to with interest. No definite information was forthcoming at present on this.

The business men will aid in the 7th war loan drive, and plans a bond auction for May 29th near the intersection of Bellevue avenue and Lincoln Highway, the hour being nine p. m. Donations will be distributed among those buying largest denomination of bonds. The plan is to invite the Soby Post Cadet Drum and Bugle Corps to parade through the borough on that evening. A wreath will be placed by the business men at the borough honor roll on that occasion.

SKETCHES

The world will remain skeptical of the death of Hitler until proof as positive as that in the demise of Mussolini is produced.
There is no question that the object strung head down from the rafters of a Milan gas station was the mortal remains of the "doojay." Even though there is no valid reason for doubt that the balcony strutter came to a fitting end, there will be rumors in the future to the effect that perhaps he isn't dead after all.

But in the case of Hitler there will be grave doubt as to his death until evidence as conclusive as that supplied in the case of Mussolini comes to light. What makes reports of his death appear less plausible is the fact that all of his close henchmen disappeared as mysteriously as Hitler, and all are supposed to be dead, too.
Goebbels, Himmler, etc.—where are their bodies if they have gone to their eternal reward?

The whole gang may lie under the rubble that is Berlin. But if they have fled to a hideout, as was freely predicted they would, as was freely predicted they would disappear simultaneously. Could they lie in Eire, Spain, or on their way to Argentina or Japan in a submarine? If the arch criminals are dead, it is possible that their bodies never will be discovered.
But in that case rumors that they are still alive will crop up constantly, always without confirmation of course.

If they are still alive, odds favor the possibility that they will eventually be caught. It will be hard for birds so well known for their deeds to find a safe haven for more than a few months.

RESTORING EUROPE

That the reconstruction of Europe will require much more time after this war than after World War I is apparent; not only because of the greater destruction wrought but also because of the necessity for a rearrangement of Europe's economy.

Europe, while occupying only about 4 per cent of the total land area of the globe, made its living literally as the "world's workshop." Germany was the third largest trading nation before the war, accounting for nearly nine per cent of the total international trade. Precious little of this will accrue to her in the future.

DINING OUT

In every city of the United States, the growing food shortage is reflected in an extraordinary increase in the number of persons dining out. New York has 19,000 public eating places. Before rationing they served 3,000,000 meals a day. A recent count shows that this has jumped to 8,000,000 meals a day. Long lines of waiting patrons at restaurants have become familiar in many towns.

This expansion in the patronage of eating places received heavy stimulus last winter when meat supplies fell below rationed demand and poultry, an unrationed food, became almost non-existent at retail markets. The restaurants are hard pressed in finding foods other than fish and eggs to satisfy their patrons.

FALLSINGTON

A party was given Saturday for Susan Bailey on her eighth birthday anniversary at the home of Miss Eleanor McCue was chosen May queen.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bowron and children, of Lancaster, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Buckalew.

Lt. Norman E. Moore recently

Field, Ala.

ROADS TO RUIN

gress extending and broadening the powers of the State Department to write trade agreements which turn the American home markets over to foreign rivals.

If, in the turmoil of reconstruction, and when shipping again becomes available, the commodities which Americans will want to buy are going to be supplied by foreign manufacturers at prices below American cost of production.

Then an intolerable and impossible situation will be created.

The depression which threatens exceeds anything in history. Our currency already is admittedly wobbly; our national credit already is over-strained.

The one possibility of recovery is fulltime employment, with a resultant rising national income to support the national debt and reconversion costs.

But there can't be full employment if the business is to go to foreign nations. There can't be 60,000,000 jobs, if foreign people are to be allowed to manufacture our goods, and if national credit is further depleted.

Next year's Congressional elections may be the last remaining chance to turn around on these roads to ruin.
America must not miss that opportunity!

The Misses Marie Sterling, Harriet Lodge, Barbara Landvater, Dorothy Lovett and Marie Baker were week-end visitors in New York City.

The baccalaureate sermon for the graduates of Falls Township School will be delivered by the Rev. Samuel Gaskell at the Methodist Church, Tullytown, May 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Hawkes of Edgely and granddaughter, Katie Ann Hutton, of Washington, D. C., were Saturday visitors at the home of the Misses Moon.

Pfc. Walter Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Rose, formerly of Fallsington, is home on a 30-day furlough from Butler (N. C.) General Hospital.

CHESTER—(INS)—Doris and Irene Yelton, high school students, have completed 2800 hours of entertainment for the armed forces in hospitals, camps and USO centers.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

PERHAPS she reads in bed? Many mothers
do. The Snellenburg Book Dept. now has a group of current books women particularly appreciate. Drop in and look them over—a few are of the Faith! at $2; "Great Son," $2.50; "The Robt," $2.75; "The Wide House," $3; "The Green Years," $2.50; "Family on the Hill," $2.50, etc. Perfect Mother's Day Gifts. (1st fl.)

REJUVENATE MOTH-ER by literally making her select a new hat to wear on Mother's Day.
Sunday! She'll find flattering models gallery—fashionable, for-
—at the "Tailleur Town" Hat Bar in the second floor Millinery Dept. of the Snellenburg Store!
If you're the mother, cajole the family into buying you one—an always correct "Tailleur Town."— $3.95 to $9.95.

SHE'LL LOVE new bedroom slippers largely because she considers it extravagant to have more than one pair. She'd like at least three!
Neat numbers are the black kid D'Orsay shown in the Snellen-burg Shoe Department. The hard leather soles and Cuban heels make them practical for occasional house wear as well as for wear in the bedroom. Sizes 4 to 9—$2.24. Younger mothers who must prowl about at night to fix covers will appreciate the capeskin slippers with soft, padded soles and low heels. White, red, blue, black.
Sizes 4 to 9. $1.99. (1st fl.)

MOTHER'S LINGERIE drawer is more likely to be under rather than overstuffed, so a dainty piece is never a mistaken gift. The Snellenburg Underwear Dept. is noted for its night-ies, and range of sizes. More mature mothers will delight in a rayon-satin tailored model, the material having little floral designs in self-tone. Tealose and blue. Sizes 42 to 48. $3.95. For the mother who takes size 32 to 40, there's a sweet tealose rayonsatin model, lace trimmed, with sheer yoke, at $4.75. Excellent "buys." (1st fl.)

PEARLS ARE PINCE-
LESS even in the Costume Jewelry Dept.— so difficult is it to obtain them with the correct sheen. But the Snellenburg Store makes a hobby of pearl necklaces. If you're seeking one of the latest chokers for Mother—and they're so flattering to all women from sixteen to ninety-nine—you'll find them in this shop's Costume Jewelry Dept. All styles can be had, priced up to and over $15. Sweet chokers actually come single at $1, double at $1.85, mounted with smart black ribbons. Unusually nice graduated pearls, in 16" and 18" lengths, sterling and rhinestone clasped, begin at $3.95. All plus 20% tax. (1st fl.)

NO KNOWLEDGE of the size she wears best is necessary when you're buying Mother a "dickie" or jabot or other bit of frosty neckwear. The Snellen-burg Neckwear Counter is noted for its wide assortment even in the face of the Duration uncertainties. Prices for really good pieces are from $1.85 to $4.85.
Just now there are some V neck designs which especially appeal to mature women. Some designs are plain, some sweetly softened by laces. The separate jabots are interesting. There are collar and cuff sets. High-necked dickies for younger mothers. A nice collection! (1st fl.)

GARDENING MOTH-ERS enjoy having their gardens gifted on Mother's Day. Even the tiny children can give a package of flower seeds or a few bulbs.
The older sons and daughters can give coddles of them. Both seeds and bulbs are easy to carry away if there is not time to deliver them before the day itself. The Snellen-burg Garden Corner has a full array of tested Perry and Burpee seeds—both flowers and vegetables—at 10c a packet. These include many new varieties. Small gladioli bulbs, mixed colors, cost 45c a dozen. Large gladioli, with choice of colors, $5c per dozen. A tip—this Garden Corner is having a clearance of some good vegetable seeds at only 5c a package!
(1st fl.)

SECOND BLOOMING
is more than probable, in these miraculous days, for the mother who, her family pretty well raised, has time to spend upon herself.
Perhaps, however, she has acquired the habit of too much personal thrift to stock her dressing table. Do it for her this Motherer's Day! The Snellenburg Toilettes Dept. can tell you all about the miraculous "Frances Denny" preparations. There's time to drop in for a consultation at the Denny counter before the great day. Consider—the mild cleanser for dry skin comes at $1, $2, $3.50, that for oily skin is similarly priced.
Glamorous Under-Tone for dry skin is priced at $1.50 and $2.50, the fine Foundation Lotion for oily skin comes at $1.65, all plus 20% tax. Older women can be beautiful! (1st fl.)

BISCUIT DOUGH IS SUGGESTED FOR AN
APPETIZING VARIETY

By Mary Jacoby Fleetham

(Home Economics Representative)

With baking powder biscuit dough as the basis, homemakers can make an endless number of nutritious and appetizing dishes.

The basic mixture of flour, baking powder, salt, and shortening will keep well if stored in a tightly covered can or jar in the refrigerator. At a minute's notice, it is ready to be combined with other ingredients for biscuits, rolls, and desserts.

Meat and vegetable pies are delicious when topped with tiny drop biscuits, or biscuit dough cut in rounds or squares. Square cut biscuits take less time and waste less dough than do fancy or round shapes. Have the meat, pie filling, piping hot and bake the biscuits quickly to keep them light.

Dick Newcomb
Goes Fishing by Proxy

Bob Newcomb used to be the best fly caster in the county.
Never missed a Saturday at Seward's Creek. But come the war, and Bob's son going off in uniform, he just lost interest in things like fishing.

But the other day Bob got a letter from the South Pacific ... kind of a homesick letter:
"I'm thinking of you, Dad, fishing in Seward's Creek; cooking trout over an open fire; and keeping the beer cool in the stream. Keep an extra bottle cool for me."

So Bob spent his next day off exactly as Dick dreamed of his doing—fished Seward's Creek again, and cooked the trout, and kept the beer cool in the stream.
And you knew he was doing it for Dick.

From where I sit, it's what the men overseas would have us do —keep alive the little customs, the small pleasures, they remember—keep them alive they come home to share them.

Army Discharges To Commence Soon; To Use Point System

per year and one point additional for each month served overseas since Sept. 16, 1940.

Five points of combat credit will be given for his first and each additional award for distinguished service performed since Sept. 16, 1940. For each child under 18 years up to a limit of three children he will receive 12 points.

While discharges will start within the next two weeks these will not be in large numbers and will affect overseas veterans with the required points who are home on leave under the rotation plan or on special duty.

Maj. Gen. William F. Tompkins, special staff officer, said the 85 point score was set up with a margin of safety and indicated that discharges will be made on a much lower rating than 85.

Tompkins said that more than the 1,200,000 which represents the reduction in the Army's size in the shift to a one-front war, will be discharged under the plan.

He estimated that the number would total about two million minus such attrition from wounded, sick and over-age soldiers as may occur in the coming year.

The 85 point score applies to all enlisted personnel in the Army ground, air and service forces. Members of the Women's Auxiliary Corps will need a score of 44 points.

Only points scored as of Saturday, May 12, will be taken into consideration in determining eligibility for release. However, after that credits will be allowed for decorations and battle participation stars earned prior to that date.

Replacement needs will be supplied as far as possible from 18 year olds, but the situation is not expected to reach the point where fathers can be exempted, Tompkins emphasized.

Kaiser Plans To Build Many Homes

of the world's press who are here for the United Nations Conference, the West Coast shipbuilder with his usual enthusiasm said he was doubling to 2,000,000 his last year's estimate of the backlog of family dwelling units needed in this country.

Convinced that 20 per cent of the nation's employment after the war would be in the building field, Mr. Kaiser disclosed that the new corporation expected to put up two and three bedroom homes on large, attractively landscaped lots for less than $5,000 each.

"Representative contractors" all over the country would build them, he said, under contract with the Kaiser Community Homes Corporation, in which he is associated with Fritz B. Burns, of Los Angeles, permanent honorary president of the National Association of Home Builders. The new enterprise will have a capital of $5,000,000. Mr. Kaiser will be chairman of the board and Mr. Burns president.

Under the program, which Mr. Kaiser made public on his sixty-third birthday anniversary, the corporation will "acquire land and develop it for homestead layouts, obtain the necessary materials and manufactured components, provide all designs, establish and maintain rigid specifications and high standards of construction, and market the homes to the public."

The land already has been purchased for the first 10,000 homes in the West Coast communities, and these, it is planned, will be built this year. The proposal is to develop communities with an average of 500 homes, plus recreational facilities, a medical and dental clinic, school and commercial center.

The building lots will vary in size from a 52 to 72 foot frontage and a 100 to 125 foot depth. The floor plans of the homes will be unvarying, but the dwellings will be made to appear individually planned through location of garages, variations in roof styles, differences in windows and shutters and nonstandard placement of the houses on the lots themselves. Thus, in the same street there may be Cape Cod, Georgian and California rancho type homes, all costing the same.

Mr. Kaiser emphasized that the homes were not to be "prefabricated," although two of the rooms, kitchen and bathroom, the former with a hydraulic dishwasher and the latter with a "turret-type" shower rotating at one end of the bathtub as the turret rotates on a flying fortress, will be built as units at a factory and shipped to the homesteads. The houses will be air-conditioned and, at an extra cost of around $150, may be provided with electronic air cleaners to kill germs and "eliminate any fever pollen." The solar principle of heating will be used where adaptable.

According to Mr. Burns, the down payment on the houses will be $100 to $200 and the total carrying charges will be under $30 a month. Eventually it is hoped to include health insurance in the charges.

Ordered To Pay $8 Weekly Support

The Bechs were before the court last June and were given at that time an opportunity to effect a reconciliation. They lived together again until February 19, 1945, when Mrs. Bech went to her mother's home in Perkasie.

Bech testified in defense that his wife apparently had a complex about their three sons who are all in the services. He stated that she stayed up until two or three o'clock in the morning to write to them. Asked by Judge Keller about the time when he went to bed, Bech replied, "Immediately after Gabriel Heatter."

After over two hours of contradiction of each other by the Bechs, Judge Keller concluded the bickering by ordering Bech to pay his wife $8 a week for her support, and pay court costs.

Bernard Mydlowski, 6248 Woodstock street, Philadelphia, was ordered by Judge Hiram H. Keller to pay to his divorced wife, Evelyn Drake, Laezy Park, Hatboro, $8 a week for the support of their daughter, Helen, 9. No testimony was heard as the couple had agreed on the terms before coming into court.

Mydlowski was placed under $500 bond on his own recognizance and was warned by Judge Keller if he left the jurisdiction of Pennsylvania, the bond would be made a cash one.

When the testimony in the case of Annie M. Peters, Erwinna, against John Peters, her alleged husband, for non-support, was completed yesterday afternoon before Judge Keller, it was difficult to know what the marital status of the pair was. Both had gone through the ceremony of marriage without the formality of divorces from their former mates.

The paternity of John Peters, Jr., the two-year-old child for whom his mother wanted support, was brought up, but was not allowed to cloud the issue, and Judge Keller ordered Peters to make payments of $3 per week for the child's support. Peters was given 30 days to pay the costs of the case.

MAKE JUICE WHILE THE RHUBARB CROP IS SO PLENTIFUL

Rhubarb makes a delicious juice to have on hand now and to use for a cool refreshing beverage during warm weather. It also is a tasty inexpensive juice for jellied desserts, pudding sauces, or a fruit juice cocktail.

Stalks of rhubarb which have become too old for sauce or canning may be used for juice. The following method is suggested for extracting and processing rhubarb juice:

As soon as possible after harvesting, wash rhubarb and cut into small pieces. Add 1 cup of water to 5 pounds of rhubarb. Heat slowly to simmering point, 175 degrees—185 degrees F. Strain through jelly bag without squeezing. Heat juice to simmering temperature and fill sterilized jars to within 1/2 inch from the top. Seal jars according to manufacturer's directions. Process in the water bath at simmering temperature, 175 degrees—185 degrees F. 20 minutes for pints and 30 minutes for quarts. Complete seal if necessary. Test seal before storing. Processing the juice at a temperature below the boiling point gives a more natural fruit flavor. If a thermometer is not available, the above temperature means having the water just below the boiling point, that is, when bubbles begin to show on the surface of the hot water.

To save time and to extract more juice, the pulp may be squeezed as the juice runs through the bag. Then strain the juice again through another bag which has been dipped in hot water. Do not squeeze this time. The juice won't be as clear as when allowed to drip slowly through the bag.

Sugar, if desired, may be added before processing, using 1/2 to 1 cup for each gallon of juice.

Today's Quiet Moment

By P. Paul Freeman Minister of Cornwells and Wilkinson Memorial Methodist Churches

O Merciful Heavenly Father, who art the giver of life and love, the Author of peace, make us aware of Thee in this living moment. Out of the care and worry of this day, we pause to lift our hearts to Thee, for Thou dost care for us. We know that we have failed all too often to do Thy will, we have refused Thy help, we have denied Thy presence, we have sinned and gone astray. Still, Thou dost love us, Thou wilt cleanse and make pure the penitent heart. Thou wilt lift the fallen and strengthen the weak. Grant, then, that we may cast our cares, our sorrows, and our weakness aside; renew our faith to trust in Thee. And may tomorrow bring new hope and joy in trust and service for Thee, Amen.

VOLTZ IN DEADLOCK FOR SECOND PLACE IN THE LEAGUE

Bristol Team Beats Roebbing In Trenton Industrial League Game

FINAL SCORE IS 5 TO 3

Dick Brothers Aided The Gasoleers in Their Triumph

Voltz-Texaco moved into a deadlock for second place in the Trenton Industrial League last evening by downing the J. A. Roebbing nine, 5-3, on the high school field. It was the second win this week for the Voltz team.

The Dick brothers, Stan and John, aided the gasoleers in their triumph. Stan's arm held the Trenton team to six hits and set down nine via the strikeout route. He did not pass a batter and in the sixth fanned the side. The visitors only had four runners left on base. "Johnny" Dick contributed a home run with Ritter on base for his share of the triumph.

The visiting team started Diaz on the mound but after a bad first inning, he was removed in place of Selinski. Diaz did not allow a hit while Selinski gave up six. Diaz was the losing hurler.

Dick had a close first frame but managed to keep Roebbing from scoring. Tesaro and Budd had singles in this frame but the Voltz hurler got both Kisco and Jones via the strikeout route to end the frame.

But Diaz ran into a sad affair in his turn with the mound. Ritter got on base by an error and David got on the same way. Before the canto was over two high flies and another error had given Voltz a pair of markers. In the second, Johnny Dick came through with his home run to left field, after Bill Ritter had drawn a pass and Voltz was ahead, 4-0.

It was until the third that Roebbing got to Dick for a pair of runs. Singles by Tesaro and Rossi, plus an error by Ludwig and a fielder's choice gave them the markers while in the next inning, the visitors made the count, 4-3, when Felskie, advanced on a passed ball and scored on a hit by Selinski.

A double by Rockhill and single by Jack Broderick gave the Bristol team its fifth tally in the fifth and although Leigh followed with a single and Ludwig was passed, Ritter ended the inning by grounding out.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

emergence therefrom of an international collective security organization that will set us firmly on the road to permanent peace. Neither the Polish nor any other issue should be permitted to divert us from that goal. Unless it is achieved, the real victory will have eluded us. Aside from this great basic charter, for which the people of every land yearn, there are to be settled the vital problems of reparations, the delicate questions of territorial division, the difficult business of governing Germany and the great burden of supplying needed food and materials to the starving population of the devastated countries so recently liberated.

Also, there are the great domestic problems involved in reconversion, employment, food production and distribution and the recovery of the Federal financial equilibrium, which has been deeply disturbed by the stupendous war costs. These are by no means diminished by the surrender. For example, in less than a week Secretary Morgenthau will launch the drive for a Seventh War Loan—this time for 14 billion dollars, the biggest of all. There is no question about the need for this loan. To let it fall would be to withdraw support from millions of service men, many of whom will have to remain in Europe for a long time to come, but most of whom will be in the South Pacific until Japan—our one remaining but exceedingly vicious and fanatical enemy—is crushed.

How long this will take no one can tell. It may be that, recognizing the certainty of her doom, Japan will try to save herself from Germany's fate by an immediate unconditional surrender. But the military opinion is that she fight on, and that before the comes we will have to put an end in Manchuria and beat the Japanese on land, as we did the Germans. That may take two years. That would impose a great strain upon our resources and call for continued war production and governmental civilian controls. Considering these things, no sensible man will contend that this is time to let up. Not only is the war not over but the problems grow out of the war will take all the have of energy and endurance.
